POETRY.

Winter is Coming
Winter has come, the flakes of snow
Lie deep upon the ground;
And fallen leaves that once were green,
Are scattered all around.
Fit emblems these of withered joys
And hopes that once were green,
And hearts that are broken now,
Happier hours have been.
And hopes that once were green,
Were full of life and youth,
Are sad, for once familiar faces
Are absent from their youth.
Oh think of those happy ones,
And comfort those that sigh,
For if you dry a tear you'll win,
A joy you cannot buy.

LITERATURE.

From the "Flag of our Union"
May Lester.
BY MARY E. C. SLADE.

"Then my father died. He lived only a week after the marriage of his sister; in the strength of manhood he passed away, peacefully, as a Christian should die. O had he known the bitterness in store for me, he had not died thus calmly.
"Many days had elapsed, bringing me no letter from Harry; I was sick with fear, for he had spoken of embezzled health, and I knew that he was making great efforts to graduate with honor, and so when the letter came to us announcing my father's death, I dared not break its sombre seal. He still lived, but my noble father was in heaven!
"Annie, since they, life has been very dark to me. God has strengthened me, and I have striven daily to fulfil my mission on earth, and an approving conscience has not left me wholly without calm and peaceful satisfaction; but I have never been happy. I shall never be again on earth, for Annie I love him still. I loved him once—and forever. He has failed me, but still I love him—once and forever.
"Day after day I waited and watched and hoped to hear from him; then I said I will write to him again. I wrote; I had sealed my letter, but in my haste I had taken a seal I never used before, and the clear impression of "delusion" scarred my heart upon me from the gleaming wax. Then first, then wholly, the bitter truth sank into my soul; at once the full consciousness swept over me that I, so deeply loving, had been too lightly loved. I was deluded no longer.
"Since then I have heard his name but twice; once Aunt May wondered I should so soon have forgotten the gentleman with whom my father had been so pleased at Niagara. Another time it was at a large party, and I laughed and chatted with the veriest butterfly of the evening, while I heard the bitter words—"he had gone to Europe," they said, "suddenly; immediately, indeed, after leaving college, where," they said, "he graduated with highest honors." I knew why he went thus capriciously. I knew that he wished not to meet me so soon when he had so wronged. Yet I laughed at that moment, and by-and-by I danced, and Annie, it was one of my "brilliant nights." You have seen such, and you have heard them say, "I so love him—how happy is May Lester!" and all the while, God only knew the agony I bore within.
"So Annie, let me go to-morrow; I am weak and weary-hearted now, and I must go away and nerve myself to meet him as I ought. God will strengthen me in my painful way."
It was long past midnight when Annie Marsh left that couch of misery. She, the teacher and child of the morning, had learned in the still midnight a life-lesson of endurance.
When May Lester was alone, she prayed long and earnestly for strength for her own need but most of all, for the happiness of him who had wronged her. Then she sweetly slept; for forgiveness of injuries is fragrant incense before God, and angels fan with their bright wings the fire of that altar on which it is burning.
The next night Henry Lincoln's voice sounded in the ears of those who had just heard her sad farewell, and her last words. "Call me Helen Lester, my mother's name, if you speak of me in his presence."
Annie Marsh strove to greet her new guest cordially and kindly. Before the close of the evening, a thought had crossed her sunny spirit that some dark cloud of mystery shrouded the life of her friend; at least she could not believe that Lincoln was the heartless trifler she had been ready to condemn a few hours before.
His calm, courtly manner in the presence of other guests bore no trace of sufferings, but when all had gone and he was alone with Mr. and Mrs. Marsh, his voice grew sad as he spoke of old times and scenes, and when Chester alluded to the last months of his college life, he seemed lost in painful thought.
"And did you continue, across the sea, the correspondence about which we will open to you so greatly?" said Chester. "Those little gems of letters must have gone tremblingly on so long a voyage."
Lincoln bowed his head, but made no reply; and Annie left them full of hope for her friend. After a brief silence, Lincoln asked abruptly, "Who is this Miss Lester whose sudden departure your friend regrets so much?"
Chester had not yet learned the cause of Mary's request, but he replied quickly:
"O Helen Lester is a beauty, a belle, and an heiress, who has been visiting us from her home in the South but she has left us rather abruptly."
"I am not surprised at any act of caprice in one of her sex and name," said Lincoln, but as he regretted the remark, he hastily changed the subject; but he left Chester a ready convert to the opinion of his wife, when he had heard her story and told his own.

FOREIGN AND COLONIAL.

Capital of Canada.

A debate, the most extraordinary that I have ever heard in Parliament, took place on the seat of Government question last night. As it was unusually long, it would be utterly impossible for me to think of giving any thing like a full sketch of it. Mr. Hincks, who is in fact and practice, the leader of the House, and who I candidly confess, has raised himself very much of late in the estimation of every independent on-looker, by his sensible, and occasionally valuable observations, stated plainly, last night, that the union of the Provinces was jeopardised by this very matter. "And for this reason," Upper Canada is increasing in population and in business so much more rapidly than Lower, that it cannot be long satisfied with an equal representation. It would be at once unreasonable and ridiculous to suppose that it would; and Mr. Hincks frankly admitted it. He asked the question then, whether it would be always satisfied with the same representation as Lower Canada, and he was met with a unanimous shout from every member from Upper Canada, that it would not. The emphatic words were, "no never!" Then he asked, would Lower Canada submit to an increased representation from Upper; when an equally loud huzza answered him—"no never!" Mr. Hincks then inquired—"would it be wise, or prudent, to spend a large sum of money in Montreal—the place the seat of Government would inevitably be taken to, if the present system is changed—with such a contingency staring them in the face, as Upper Canada demanding, as a matter of undeniable right, what Lower Canada would refuse as a matter of undeniable safety.
Montreal, he contended—and contended with perfect fairness in my opinion—could never expect to be made the Seat of Government, if a federal union, or any other union took place between all the Colonies. Still less could it expect to be made the Seat of Government, if the present union were dissolved. Toronto and Quebec would clearly, in that event, be the Capitals of the respective Provinces. And Bytown he regarded as out of the question altogether. "Not more than 12 in Parliament, he averred, could be got to vote for it. He saw nothing else for it then, but to move the Government for the next four years to Toronto; and to let the prosperity and growth of the country shape its destinies afterwards. Mr. Hincks's speech produced, I am bound to admit, a powerful effect upon the House; and it was the more effective, from its being regarded as strictly disinterested, he and others of his friends having purchased largely on the Ottawa.—Can. Daily Colonist, Quebec.

THE VOTE BY BALLOT.—Twenty-nine members voted last Thursday for the Ballot, as a protection to those voters who may require it, under the new franchise acts. Fifty-nine members voted against it. Forty-one did not vote—their names will be seen by referring to those who did vote.

THURSDAY, OCT. 26.—Mr. Mackenzie, seconded by Mr. J. B. Dorian, moved, that a Special Committee of seven Members be appointed, with instructions to prepare and report to the House, a Bill for the introduction of the principle of voting by Ballot in all City, Town and County Elections of the Legislative Assembly in Upper Canada and Lower Canada; and the principle of the Ballot to be also applicable to the Electors of Legislative Councils whenever the Legislative Council, or any part thereof, shall be chosen by the popular vote.

YEAS: Aikins, Biggar, Bourassa, Cooke of Ottawa, Daoust of Beauharnois, De Witt, Dorion of Drummond, Dorion Montreal, Foley, Fraser Freeman, Galt, Gould, Hartman, Holton, Jackson, Mackenzie, McKelvie, Marchildon, Merritt, Munroe, Papin, Prevost, Roblin, Sanborn, Satchard, Smith, of Northumberland, Valois, Amos Wright.—29.

NAYS: Bell, Bowes, Brodeur, Brown, Cameron, Carlier, Cassault, Cuyler, Chabot, Chapais, Chauvenin, Clarke, Crawford, Chrysler, Daly, Daoust of Two Mountains, Delong, Desaulniers, Dionne, Forres, Ferrie, Fournier, Garville, Hincks, Labella, Langton, Laporte, Larue, Le Boulillier, Lemieux, Loranger, Lumsden, Macbeth, At. Ross, James Ross, Shaw, Henry Smith, Somerville, Southwick, Spence, Stevenson, Terrill, Turcotte, Whitney, Yelding.—59.

We gain a little. In the last parliament we had six votes, I think, including David Christie and Mr. Tessier, Mayor of Quebec. The present Mayor, Mr. Allevy did not vote.—Message.

NEW BRUNSWICK.—A new Government has been formed as follows:—Hon. Charles Fisher, Attorney General; Hon. J. Johnson, Solicitor General; Hon. S. L. Tilley, Provincial Secretary; Hon. Mr. Stevens, Surveyor General; Hon. Mr. Ritchie, Hon. Mr. Brown, and Hon. Mr. Smith, Executive Councilors, without place. The Morning News, after giving the above appointments says:—
"We have a new Government, liberal to the backbone, and there must necessarily be harmony enough among its members, for useful and practical purposes, to prepare such measures, during the recess, as the country stands in need of, but which have always been denied to the people by the party in power.
"After the names of the new Government were announced a resolution was offered of a want of confidence in it because it was made up without a single Catholic being included in it. This was rejected by a vote of 18 to 9.

THE COLONIES.

THE COLONIES.—A circular despatched from Sir George Grey, Secretary of State for the colonies, has been sent to the governors of the British North American and West Indian colonies, intimating the intention of the home government to abolish the Imperial custom houses in those colonies, the expenses of which are provided for by the Imperial Government. The duties performed by the officers of the Imperial custom houses at present, consist in registering vessels, measuring them, recording transfers in property, &c., making out the accounts of shipping, clearing vessels, making out the statistical accounts of trade, quarterly and annually with some other minor duties. It is proposed that this service should be performed by the provincial officers, which can be done at a very trifling additional expense, and thereby save the home Government many thousands per annum. By carrying out this arrangement, it will be productive of convenience to the merchant, and will do away with the anomaly of having two custom houses and passing two sets of entries, without incurring any serious additional expense, and will relieve the home Government from a heavy tax without any corresponding benefit.

A NEW PAPER.—The Rouge party have just established an organ at Quebec, called Les Debats. Such a journal was much needed in the ancient city. The French papers they are all under the control of the Priest party—the real Tories of Lower Canada. If the "Young Canada" Reformers can make an inroad upon the Quebec district, they will secure a majority in the next House. They carried, at the last election every constituency they attempted in the Montreal district, and the alliance of Mr. Morin with Sir Allan McNab, the aide and abettor of the Montreal House-burners, of 49—will give them an easy victory in other constituencies at the next election. The "Young Canada" party is the only one in that section of the Province that Upper Canada Reformers can unite with on principle. The Montreal Herald's correspondent thus speaks of the new paper:—
"You will receive the first copy of a newspaper, called Les Debats, to be published bi-weekly in this city. It is got up by the Rouges or Democratic members of the House. It is written with much ability in the peculiar style of the Paris papers. Mr. D'Aoust, the representative of Beauharnois, has deposited his name with the printer, as the responsible father of the paper; and this will be enough of guarantee for ability and respectability; but I believe Mr. D'Aoust is not the only, if indeed the principal writer, in it."
The following are the concluding paragraphs of the prospectus:—
"The result of fifteen years of Responsible Government may be summed up in a very few words.
Education languishing;
A debt of some ten millions;
Colonial fetters riveted;
Public opinion dead and buried.
A new political party has arisen in spite of insults, in spite of violence, in spite of corruption; it has taken its place in the Legislature; it is the Democratic party. Its confession of faith is short and simple.
To secure from actual institutions all the good possible, in the interests of the country; to achieve the greatest amount of freedom compatible with colonial existence; and thus to conduct the country peacefully and legally, without disturbance and without violence, to its inevitable and early destiny—independence.
All the world admits that, sooner or later, the country must be independent.
If so it is who are the upholders of order, who are the friends of their country?
Is it those, who, by corruption, seek to erect vicious institutions on our soil, so as to force Canadians to arise some day in their might and sweep them out of sight: or is it those, who seek to effect a peaceful and natural transition, who wish to glide smoothly and safely towards independence.
An object great and definite; it is that we wish to attain.
Means legal, peaceful and loyal: such alone would we employ."
Upon which the Herald says.—We wish our new contemporary all the success, which we sincerely believe, his political principles and objects an eminently merit—legal, peaceful and loyal to the true interests as well of Great Britain as of Canada.—North American.

A telegraph dated New York, the 6th, says a letter from Havana mentions that the American schooner Peerless had been recently seized as a slaver, after having landed a cargo of slaves near Bahia Honda. The slaves are also understood to be seized by the authorities. The trial of Capt. James Smith, charged with fitting out the brig, Julia Moulton as a slaver, commenced this morning in the U. S. Circuit Court. The entire forenoon was consumed in reading a jury.

A letter from Cognac of October 17th says—"In face of the miserable violence we cannot but have a further rise. The small quantity of Wine which will be made will prove hardly sufficient for home consumption; no Brandy, therefore, can be expected to be made this year." Other letters from Cognac and Rochelle concur in the above.

We observe that, in an Extra of the Canada Gazette of Friday last, the Government offers a reward of £250 for any information leading to the discovery of the perpetrators of the murder of Mr. Nelles of Cayuga.

A rumor is current that the young King of Portugal looks to the English Court for a suitable match.

The House of Assembly continues, according to Les Debats, 30 Advocates, 22 from Lower and 17 from Upper Canada; 7 Notaries; 16 Doctors; 27 Merchants; 16 Cultivators; 9 Bourgeois or Tenants; 4 Editors; 2 Contractors; 2 Bankers; 3 Manufacturers; 3 Commissioners of Land Companies; 1 Township; 1 Surveyor; and 1 Butcher.—The last Parliament, comprising 187 members, had in it 40 advocates.

THE RECIPROCITY BILL.

The Reciprocity Bill was passed on the 3rd. The two houses passed an address to the Queen congratulatory on the victory of Alma. In the afternoon of the same day, the Governor gave his assent to the Reciprocity Bill, the Bill for the abolition of duty on flour, pork, &c., and several others.—The Legislature was then prorogued.

RECIPROCITY.—The American Government have at length signified their intention to give immediate effect to the Reciprocity Treaty as regards Canada; the same has been given to New Brunswick. We learn by telegraph from Quebec, last night, that our Government had received the following important communication on the subject from the Government at Washington:
WASHINGTON, 4th Nov. 1854.
MY DEAR SIR, I have the pleasure to inform you, that a Treasury Circular will be issued in a few days, to admit into the United States from Canada, all the articles enumerated in the late treaty, under the same condition and with the same object, as expressed in the late circular in regard to fish from the coast Provinces.
I am, very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
C. CUSHING.

To the Hon. L. T. DUMMOND.

NOTICE OF MOTION.—Mr. Mackenzie—On Wednesday next, ADDRESS to His Excellency the Governor General, praying His Excellency to lay before the House, at the earliest possible period for its information, the amount of and all other particulars relative to the default of Colonel Clench, late Superintendent of Indian Affairs at London, in Upper Canada, showing what annual income Colonel Clench had, what lands the property of the Indians, he sold, and never accounted for; who are his Sureties and for what sums; and what steps have been taken against his and their property on behalf of the injured Indians; also what is the object gained by keeping the Land Agency of the Indians separate from that of the Crown Land, and under the Superintendent at $3000 a year; for how many years Colonel Clench's defaultations have been going on, and what proceedings were had in Chancery, or otherwise, to recover the Indian moneys for which J. P. Jarvis was a defaulter, and dismissed years ago from his Indian Agency, the amount of his default still due; why it was that the Department trusted him without taking any security, or obliging sureties on behalf of the Indians; and what instructions as to his (J. P. Jarvis) failure have been received from England; who audits Indian accounts and land—whether the Indian Department could not be very advantageously for the Indians and the public, merged in some other Public Office, expenses thereby lessened, defaultations checked, and the heavy losses caused by inexperience, or neglect, measurably avoided.

HORRIBLE SLAUGHTER.—In reference to the recent great loss of life on the Great Western Railroad, the Hamilton Spectator says.—"A correspondent, writing from Chatham, informs us that more bodies were found on Sunday last in the ditches near the scene of the disaster. He has taken the trouble to make a calculation of the killed and wounded on the Great Western Railroad since it went into operation, and the following is the result:—Their passenger trains have run, in the aggregate, about 760,000 miles; during which time they have killed upwards of 74 passengers, and wounded and maimed over 62, who had no control over their own actions. Thus giving a passenger killed for every 9,500 miles travelled, while in the State of New York, taking 20 Railways, (2076 miles) we find, according to the State Engineer's report for 1853, that there was only one passenger killed for every 198,636.149 miles travelled, and one injured for every 6,212.050 miles travelled, or giving the Great Western the unenviable position of having killed in the ratio of nearly 20,500 to 1."!

THE MURDER IN SCARBORO.—The inquest on the body of James Shepard, who was murdered in Scarborough on Sunday morning, returned a verdict of Wilful Murder against Matthew Gleeson and Timothy Magrath, the former a lad about sixteen years of age.—Both prisoners are Roman Catholics, and were employed as laborers on the Grand Trunk Line, near the scene of the murder. Gleeson admitted his guilt, and the only reason he could assign for committing the atrocious act was, that the deceased "was a Protestant." The prisoners acknowledged that they entertained no ill feeling whatever against the deceased as a fellow-workman or acquaintance, his religious belief alone not according with theirs. Several witnesses were admitted on their own recognizances to appear and prosecute, but it is very doubtful if they do so, as they are labourers on the line, and their only property is a pick and shovel. We were in error yesterday when we attributed the departure of two bodies of labourers from their work on the Railroad to the excitement caused by the murder, the fact being that the two gangs suspected that they would be implicated in the affair as abettors or otherwise, and several parties of six and seven each passed through the city at an early hour yesterday morning to obtain employment in different parts of the country west of Toronto.—Globe.

The House of Assembly continues, according to Les Debats, 30 Advocates, 22 from Lower and 17 from Upper Canada; 7 Notaries; 16 Doctors; 27 Merchants; 16 Cultivators; 9 Bourgeois or Tenants; 4 Editors; 2 Contractors; 2 Bankers; 3 Manufacturers; 3 Commissioners of Land Companies; 1 Township; 1 Surveyor; and 1 Butcher.—The last Parliament, comprising 187 members, had in it 40 advocates.

THE NEW ERA.
Newmarket, Friday, Nov. 22nd, 1854.
LOCAL MATTER.

We are indebted to the Member for North York for numerous copies of parliamentary papers.

We give up a large portion of our unsold space to-day, to make room for our Quebec Correspondent. This letter is well worth the time of every reader to peruse it.

An extensive sale of Stock, &c., takes place on Wednesday, the 22nd inst., at the residence of J. W. Barwick Esq., Holland Landing. Terms—cash. Mr. H. Croxon, Auctioneer. For particulars see Bills.

A petition numerously signed, is about to be forwarded to the Legislature, praying for the granting of the Charter to construct a Railroad running in an easterly direction from Newmarket, to Port Perry or some other eastern point.

ORONOKO.—Mr. HENDERSON of the Britannia House, Newmarket, has now on hand a very fair article of Oronoko; but as the supply is somewhat limited, owing to its scarcity, now is the time to purchase. Persons that are daily using Tobacco, will find it a great saving to buy the Oronoko.

During the past week, snow has been visible during most of the time; but the weather has not been very cold yet. Sawyers are making the general complaint, that water is very low, scarcely being sufficient to keep their mills running.

We have to acknowledge the receipt of a can of splendid Lobsters, from the establishment of Thomas Brown & Co., Toronto at the same time we cannot do less than inform our friends in the country that if they want anything in the grocery line, and intend purchasing in the city, they cannot do better than call upon this firm. They keep every thing reasonable; and of the finest quality.

RIGHT OF THE BIBLE IN OUR COMMON SCHOOLS.—This is the title of a new work just published by McLEAN & Co. King Street East, Toronto, and written by GEORGE B. CHURCH, D. D. The learned Divine has gone into his subject thoroughly, and reasons in a clear and lucid manner. This work must gain an extensive circulation. We have not had time to take a general review; but from a cursory glance, readily perceive it is a work entitled to the highest consideration.

General Summary.

Report says that one hundred and sixty bodies, from the vessel wrecked on the New Jersey coast, called the New Era, have been picked up.

The Grand Trunk Railway Company have advertised for Tenders for the delivery of about 18,000 cords of wood, at various places between Whitby and Sturford.

The wounded persons of the Great Western accident, are doing extraordinary well; and it is reported that the different medical men vie with each other in their attentions to them.

Elsewhere we published Hon. Inspector CAWLEY's proposition to regulate the custom duties. We have not room for comment in to-day's issue; and will therefore leave our readers to form their own opinions.

MYRON H. CLARK, the Maine Law Candidate, has been elected Governor of New York State, by a majority of 625; at least so says a large proportion of the papers. However, the statement is contradicted by others and claim for Seymour, the late Governor, a Majority.

The British Canadian circulated a rumor the beginning of this week, that Lord Elgin had left the Province for England; and that Sir E. Head had resumed the office of Governor-General of Canada. This rumor has been denied by the Colonial; and we believe the Colonial is correct.

A great deal is being said by the press generally about the philanthropy of Sir Allan McNab, the Government, and the Legislature; but we cannot see the philanthropy in giving away $20,000 of the people's money. Had these gentlemen put their hands into their own pockets, and subscribed liberally to the Widows' and Orphans' Fund, we could then talk of their sympathy—generosity—philanthropy, &c.; but giving away what is really not their own, is poor charity.

We have received a copy of the proceedings of the Anti-Scignorial Convention, of Montreal. This Convention has gone deeply into the subject, and the arguments made use of, in favor of total abolition, are clear and conclusive. From evidence adduced, it appears the Lower Canadian abolitionists have been agitating for the removal of this grievance ever since 1824; and from that time to the present they have been gradually gaining friends in the Assembly favorable to such a change.

TORONTO MARKETS.

Toronto Nov. 23, 1854.

During the Past week, Toronto Market has been well supplied with Beef, Pork, and various kinds of produce. The highest prices paid for wheat during the week was 63, but it could be bought to-day for 62 1/2 and 3/4 Flour 36s a 36 lb. —other articles about the same as last quoted. Cordwood sells in Toronto at 25s per Cord. Beef and Pork fell a trifle in the Market, in consequence of the large number of fowls brought in by farmers.

AZOR'S TURKISH BALM.

THE GREAT TURKISH
REMEDY FOR BALDNESS,
And for Invigorating and Beautifying the Hair.
The only certain Remedy for Baldness, and for preventing and stopping the falling out of the hair.

A Toilet Article, for Beautifying and Keeping the Hair Soft, Glossy, and in a healthy Condition, it is unequalled. Its positive qualities are as follows:—
1st. It frees the head from dandruff, strengthens the roots, imparts health and vigor to the circulation, and prevents the hair changing colour or getting gray.

2nd. It causes the hair to curl beautifully when done up in its evening night.

This Balm is made from the original receipt procured from the original Turkish Hakim (physician) of Constantinople, where it is universally used.—
The Turks have always been celebrated for their wonderful skill in compounding the richest perfumes and all other toilet articles. In Turkey the aromatic herbs, &c., of which this Balm is composed, are almost universally known and used for the hair.—
Hence a case of baldness or thin head of hair is entirely unknown in that country. We wish but one trial to be made of it; that will be enough to convince you of its virtue. There are no advertisements that can be published and that all may be able to test its virtues, it is set up in Large Bottles at the low price of 50 cents per Bottle.

Remember the Genuine has the signature of AMUSEMENT.

We love to see the blooming rose,
We love to hear our friends disclose
The emotions of the breast,
We love to see the ship arrive
Will laden to our shore;
We love to see our neighbors thrive,
And love to bless the poor.

We love to see domestic love
With uninterrupted flow,
We love to see a happy wife
With love of girl and boy.

We love all these—yet far above
All that we ever said,
We love what every printer loves—
To have subscriptions paid.

The young lady who was carried away by the "force of a remark," came in last night on a "train of thought."

A witty fellow slipped down on an ice pavement. While sitting he muttered, "I've no desire to see the city burned down, but I sincerely wish the streets were laid in ashes."

A chap was asked what kind of a "gal" he preferred for a wife. He replied, "One that was not a prodi-gal, but a fru-gal, and, a true-gal, and one that suited the conju-gal state."

"Why don't you wheel the barrow of coal, Ned?" quoth a learned vendor of black diamonds, to his man. "It is not a very hard job—there is an inclined plane to relieve you." "Ay master," replied Ned, who had more relish for wit than work, "the plane may be inclined, but hang me if I am."

Tom presented his bill to neighbor Joe for services rendered. The latter looked at it and expressed much surprise at the amount.

"Why Tom, it strikes me that you make a pretty round bill here, eh?" "I'm sensible it's a round one," quoth Tom, "and I came for the purpose of getting it squared!"

Of the witty Dr. Smith, it is said, that preaching, before King Charles, he saw that potentate asleep; he stopped short and in a loud and altered tone of voice, three times called out "Lord Londerdale!" his lordship stood up and looked at the preacher, who addressed him with great composure, "My Lord, I am sorry to interrupt your repose, but I must beg of you not to snore so loud lest you should wake the king."

FOX AND JACK ROBINSON.—Mr. Fox, in the course of a speech in the house of commons, when he was enlarging on the influence exercised by government over the members observed, that it was generally understood that there was a person employed by the minister as Manager of the house of commons.—Here there was a general cry of, "Name him, name him." "No," said Mr. Fox. "I don't choose to name him though I might do it as easy as to say Jack Robinson." John Robinson was really his name.

DEFERRED NEWS.
New Brunswick has given its acquiescence to the Treaty of Reciprocity, and passed an Act similar to our own.

The United States have entered into a treaty of commerce with Russia. It stipulates that goods, the property of neutrals, on board enemies' vessels, shall not be subject to confiscation, unless declared contraband.—Examiner.

Discovery of Coal.—The Provincial Geologist, after a long and careful examination, decided that no coal was to be found in Canada. A farmer in West Gwillimbury, when lately digging a well, came upon a seam of considerable thickness, and apparently of good quality. We have seen a sample of it, and the discovery seems beyond dispute.—Examiner.

RECENT BANK FAILURES.—Eighty Avenue Bank, N. York.—Farmers and Mechanics' Bank, Kent Co., Maryland.—Farmers and Merchants Bank, Memphis, Tennessee. Bank of Milford, Milford, Delaware.—Bank of Washtenaw, Ann Arbor Michigan.—The broken banks of Carthage, and the Dover's Bank are about to commence again.

Dye's Bank Mirror gives the following list of doubtful Banks, which they advise all to refuse:—

Ellsworth Bank, Ellsworth, Maine.—Bank of Kanawha, Va.—National Bank, District of Columbia.—Commerce Bank, Tenn.—Manufacturers and Mechanics Bank, Geo. Museum River Bank, Maine.—Bank of Castleton, Vt.—Bank of Milledgeville, Geo. South Royalton Bank, Vt.

THE FIRST APPOINTMENT!!!—Alexander Logie, Esq., of this city, has received the appointment of Judge of the United Counties of Wentworth and Halton, vacant by Mr. O'Reilly's acceptance of the Solicitorship to the Great Western Railway.—Personally, we have no objection to Mr. Logie, but we do not think that an older and more competent person might have been selected. Why has he been appointed? Is it because he was a student in the office of the present Attorney General or because he was Secretary to Sir Allan McNab's election Committee?—Hamilton Banner.

SECULARIZATION.—We have been informed that several of the conservative members who adhere to the Coalition Ministry, but opposed to the secularization of the Clergy Reserves, have been assured by those in Sir Allan's confidence that he and Mr. Morin desired a strong opposition to any proposal for confiscating these properties, as an excuse for a compromise in effecting an adjustment; and that most of Mr. Morin's followers have received their lessons to act in conjunction with the anti-secularizationists, should it be found desirable. "This is said to be the final and conclusive plan." That the question will be legislated upon as an open one, is quite certain.—Quebec Gazette.

American papers say that the Farmers' Bank of Chicago; the Woodbury Bank of Connecticut; and the following Indiana Banks; Wayne Bank, Logansport; State Stock Bank of Indiana, Peru; Upper Washburn Bank, Logansport; Steuben County Bank, Angola; Traders' Bank, Terre Haute, and Great Western Bank, Terre Haute, have passed into disrepute.

A small schooner was cruising up and down the harbour at Bristol (R. I.) on Friday, last, dealing out liquor to such as boarded her.
